If you have awarded a (NS) Not Satisfactory on your assessment, you will be granted a reattempt. You will be provided with three (3) attempts to demonstrate competence on each assessment during the course term.

By the end of the enrolment period, if you have attempted but were not able to demonstrate competence on single or numerous assessments on the unit of competency, you will be resulted with an NYC (Not Yet Competent) and will need to re-enrol in the unit of competency.

Rules for Grading Consistency

Assessors are responsible for ensuring that all assessments are conducted in accordance with the principles of assessment and the rules of evidence.

- Principles of assessment are required to ensure quality outcomes. Assessments should be fair, flexible, valid, and reliable.
- Rules of evidence are closely related to the principles of assessment and provide guidance on the collection of evidence to ensure that it is valid, sufficient, authentic, and current.

To ensure grading consistency, Rapid Training has the following strategies in place:

Validation - Consultation with industry, to:

- Meet current workplace/industry requirements
- Ensure the VET compliance with the principles of assessment and the rules of evidence
- Meet the requirements of the unit of competency

Assessment Moderation - assessment/question may be worded (as needed/identified) to assist the clarity of the assessment instructions.

Reasonable Adjustment

If you are being assessed and have special needs, reasonable adjustments may be made in the assessment process. Reasonable adjustment aims to make it possible for students with an additional need to participate fully in education and training.

Even though real-life evidence will more easily demonstrate competence, we understand that sometimes it may not always be possible to collect assessment evidence in a real environment. When this occurs, your trainer/assessor may suggest you apply a 'reasonable adjustment' to the instructions e.g., a simulation. We recommend asking the Assessor for these adjustments to be send to you in an email, so you can submit it with the adjustment made in the assignment for context.

When this occurs, you must ensure you follow the following, minimum, guidelines, along with any specific instructions given to you by the trainer/assessor. Instructions must be provided in a written format e.g., on the training portal/email, verbal agreements will not be accepted.

Rapid Training - Student Handbook

In the evidence, ensure you include:

- Identify why the adjust was needed
- Identify how the assessment instruction has been adjusted
- Ensure you provide more verbal/written context on how the adjusted evidence shows how these skills and knowledge can be transferred to other situations, including the original assessment requirement.
- If the 'reasonable adjustment' to the instructions were on an email, upload the email to the question on the portal to provide context on the adjustment.

Example of a simulation:

Candidate participated in a WHS meeting

Evidence criteria:

- volume was appropriate where all can hear
- pace was moderate
- message was concise through limiting information that was relevant to discussion
- acknowledged others input by using facial expressions such as nodding
- gave eye contact to audience, etc.

Course Durations

Our course durations (on our website) are all set to the maximum duration for the course, but students are welcome to competently complete the course earlier.

Our course terms have been calculated to ensure that the minimum hours are allocated each week and are achievable for those students completing the course around fulltime working hours.

Grading Turnaround

An assessor will aim to grade your submitted assessment within 10 business days from the submission date. If grading extends beyond this point, please email us for support.

If, at any time, these timeframes need some flexibility, Rapid Training will post a notice on the online training portal to advise of the extended timeframes, such as grouped multiple public holidays e.g., Easter & Christmas/New year.

In determining whether a student is competent/or not yet competent, the student is assessed against the requirements of the qualification, including the units of competencies and the performance criteria and assessment requirements within the units of competency.

Students are issued with a VET Statement of Attainment or VET Qualification once competency has been achieved, as outlined within the Training Product. The testamur for all AQF qualifications issued will identify the qualification as an AQF qualification with the words "The qualification is recognised within the Australian Qualifications Framework".

Issuance of recognised qualifications or statements of attainment

Once a USI has been collected and stored into the RTO's database, and on successful completion of training, Rapid Training will provide nationally recognised qualifications or statement of attainments to students in a variety of different formats.

Below are some examples that are considered a statement of attainment and they cannot be issued until the student has supplied Rapid Training with a USI that has been verified. They can include:

- A certificate
- A building industry white card
- A stamp on their license to certify they can now drive heavy machinery

When a student logs into their USI account it will link to the national data collection using the USI. The students USI account will then be able to see their records and results completed. The student's results from 2015 will be available in their USI accounts in 2016.

Reissuance of Certification

We understand that sometime students lose copies of their certifications and are happy to arrange them with a replacement. A small administration fee of $30.00 will be charged for each certification reissued, and each instance. This fee is to cover all administrative costs.

In order to maintain student privacy, all reissuance requests must be in writing and from the enrolled student. There students must complete and return our Application for Certificate Re-issuance which can be found on our website or requested via email.

Pest Management Licensing in Australia

All pest control licensing is administrated by each states licensing authority, licenses are not issued by Rapid Training. Upon course completion, students should visit their states licensing authority website to access the relevant license application form. Students will need to supply the licensing authority with a copy of their accreditation containing the required units of competency.

Complaints and Appeals that are placed into the register are reviewed and monitored at the next Management Meeting. Meetings may be called to address urgent issues.

Complaint/Appeal Investigations
